Dear Sir/Madam:

Greetings of peace, joy, and good health!

We are excited to announce that Silliman University is developing a comprehensive courseware to combat information disorder on social media. This initiative is made possible through the generous funding from the United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia. Our project aims to empower students in higher education institutions across the Philippines by promoting knowledge and skills in fighting information disorder, both inside and outside the classroom. To learn more about this innovative project, please visit our website at https://www.davemarcial.net/info-disorder.html.

As part of our efforts, in collaboration with some partner schools and Philippine eLearning Society, we are organizing an engaging seminar and hands-on workshop on the following dates and in different venues:

- June 30, 2023 | Central Philippine University, Iloilo City
- July 7, 2023 | Davao Central College, Davao City
- July 21, 2023 | University of the Cordilleras, Baguio City

During this workshop, participants will gain valuable insights into the effective utilization of the courseware and will learn the fundamental principles of combating information disorder on social media.

We cordially invite your esteemed institution to send up to three participants to any of the scheduled training session. We recommend one faculty/librarian and a maximum of two student leaders to represent your school. Participants should be enthusiastic about sharing their experiences and knowledge with their colleagues and peers.

Registration for the seminar is free of charge. Additionally, we will provide a complimentary lunch and issue certificates of participation to all attendees. To confirm your institution's attendance, please register online at https://www.davemarcial.net/info-disorder-workshop.html. Should you have any inquiries or require further information, kindly reach me at 09228218854 or email me at demarcial@su.edu.ph.

We look forward to your institution's active participation in this essential initiative to combat information disorder on social media. Together, let us equip our students with the necessary skills and knowledge to navigate the digital landscape responsibly.
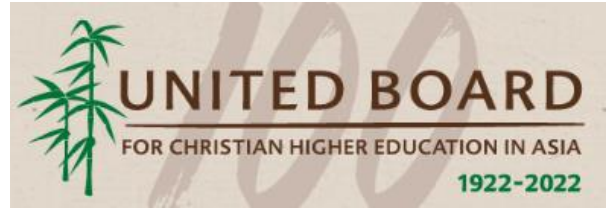

Respectfully yours,

Dave E. Marcial, Ph.D.
